

I just wanted to urge you to not allow Indiana's telephone privacy act to be weakened. Telephones are a service provided AND PAID FOR by the consumer for the consumer's convenience. It is important that the consumer be allowed to opt into a system that restricts unwanted calls of the most common types. Caller ID is no substitute for simply not receiving the calls in the first place. Telemarketing to consumers who do not wish it is much like stalking and should be illegal.